after the last entry the amount of balance at credit with the words "Transferred to the Taluk Treasury at ———" signing the entry. He will then send the depositor's application and Pass Book with an order to the Amildar (B) to open an account in the depositor's name (with a new number), by copying out from the pass book the balance at close of last year and the items of receipt and withdrawal for the current year, and to credit the balance transferred to the depositor in the ledger as well as in the Taluk C. account of the day as a Savings Bank deposit transferred from A, and also to charge it on the other side of the C. account under Taluk Remittances. On application, the receiving Taluk Treasury (B) will deliver the pass book to the depositor.

6. The District Treasury Officer must also direct the transferring Amildar (A) to charge the amount of balance in his C. account under Savings Bank deposits (transferred) and credit it under Taluk Remittances, and to refer the depositor to the receiving Amildar (B) for his pass book.

7. When a transfer is wanted from a Taluk in one District to a Taluk in another, the transferring Amildar (A) will send the application and pass book to the District Treasury, which will debit the balance under Taluk Remittances and remit the amount by a public service transfer receipt, with the pass book, to the other District Treasury which will send them on to the Taluk (B) to which the transfer is to be made. Both Taluk Amildars (A & B) will be instructed by the respective District Treasuries to make the requisite entries in their C. accounts as Savings Bank ledgers prescribed above.

8. District Treasuries will, for convenience of reference, keep an alphabetical index of all depositors' names borne on the general ledger of the District. A similar index will be kept in every Taluk of the names of the depositors borne on its books if they are numerous.
